

WSSCP Practice Points Scenarios

We understand the challenge many professionals have in finding the time to attend full day training sessions, and so we are providing a series of Practice Point Scenarios designed for managers and team leaders to use within their team meetings, group supervision sessions, or team building days. These contain a subject, a brief scenario for discussion and suggested links to access further information on a variety of safeguarding concerns including: Information Sharing, Neglect and Chastisement

We hope that this is a way in which frontline staff across the city can explore some areas of learning without the need to attend formal training. It should also highlight areas where further training is required within your organisation, and we would encourage you to share your team's response with your agency safeguarding lead.

If you have any feedback on the Practice Points Scenarios, or would like to suggest topics for future scenarios please contact us at

How would you assess this risk?

How would you contact this young person?

Would you talk to the family about your concerns?

What resources would you use?

What would you do with this information?
